me: yep
me: here's the local TV program I'll be on tonight me: http://pdr.autono.net/Karen: What! How did you get that?
me: John Penley
Karen: Ha! me: plus having lunch again with New York Mag editor me: tomorrow me: oh, also me: we may need to change ticket again; it's possible I'll need to meet with Amazon editor up here me: let me know if that's possible Karen: Is Amazon a done deal or are they still just "considering"? me: done deal
me: they made "pre-emptive offer" which we accepted Karen: So they will be doing print, e-book and audio? me: I don't think they have rights to e-book me: that might be separate Karen: Has he emailed you a copy of the contract?
me: nope, will be doing so soon me: I'm supposed to be getting calls from our editor and him later today Karen: OK so yes I can change your ticket -- what day is your preference?
me: I'm not sure yet, let's push it back quite a bit as Gregg may need to come back in next week and the two of us meet with the editor together to get things rolling Karen: You have your sub appt next Tues Oct 4 me: well, if for some reason I can't make that, it's possible he could call it in up here, perhaps me: but I'll try to ensure that I'm not needed here after 3rd Karen: How many doses do you have left? me: a bunch, and I can always stretch it without any problems me: so we could reschedule if necessary me: I'll try to find out what's what today and let you know re: coming back
